The Dairyman Philanthropist Wants & New License for his Employment Office, J. B. Gibbs, the professional temperance reformer, and late keeper of an employment agency at 130 West Twenty-third street, had a very busy time yesterday at the office of Mayor's Marshal Byrnes, in making answer to over fifty complaints by persons who have deemed themselves defrauded by his method of doing business. Gibbs has applied for a hew license, and the Marshal has decided not of advise the Mayor to grant it unless all the complainants are appeased. The point of yes-torday's proceedings in the Marshal's office was to confront Gibbs with his accusers and give him a chance to reply. Gibbs employed a lawyer, J. H. Laird, to cross-examine the com-plainants. The point of his questions was to and out whether they knew what they were signing when they did sign, all of them. the signing when they did sign, all of them, the written contract, with Gibbs's office. All the complainants admitted that they had signed he contract, which really agreed to give them an advertisement in a newspaper if the office did not succeed in procuring them situations. The fact appeared, however, as most of the romplainants claimed, that when they paid their money, from $2 to $8 each, they were to get situations or get their money back. They were quite indignant when, falling to get situations, they were put off with advertisements in the World after being kept running in fruit-less search after impossible situations. Gibbs did not stay long, but left his lawyer to fight the malcontents. Among the complainants were these:

Miss Jennie Hyer, 105 Sullivan street, said she paid Gibbs's agency $2 on July 15, and a situation as clerk in a broker's shop was procured for her and did not get it. She was sent to a place, and was there told that nobody was wapted.

was wanted.

Miss Doerr of 401 Graham avenue, Brooklyn, said she had paid Gibbs's agency $2, and kept running fruitlessiy three weeks after alleged situations, and Gibbs refused to return her situations, and Gibbs refused to return her money.

Thomas G. Leech, 449 West Forty-fourth street, paid $3 and got no equivalent, he says. William Wilmot of 319 West Thirty-fifth street paid $8 in all, and says that he got nothing and that Gibbs refused to make restitution. Augustus Abbott, a colored man, of 107 East Forty-fourth street, said that Gibbs got his $2 and gave no equivalent.

Alfred Ballman of 204 West Nineteenth street paid the agency $3, and says he was promised a situation at once and did not get it.

P. Murphy of 156 East Fortisth street says he paid $3, was kept running two weeks, on a wild goose chase, and got no satisfaction. Gibbs denied this story vehemently and vowed he had hever seen the man, but Murphy insisted that Gibbs himself was the man who shut the door in his face.

never seen the man, but Murphy insisted that fibbs himself was the man who shut the door in his face.

P. H. Walker, 140 Concord street, Brooklyn, says he paid $3 and got no equivalent, and among the other complainants with similar stories were J. Kellocan, 211 West Seventeenth street, $8; J. W. Hevern. 1.072 Third avenue, $2: John Cosgrove, 317 East Thirty-fourth street, $3: James Cunningham, East Forty-lifth street; Patrick Kearner, 52 South Fifth avenue; J. Moses, 68 Mott street; William Calbesh, 162 East Thirty-third street; E. T. Donnelly, 22 King street; J. Weeks, 12 Donnelly, 22 King street; J. Weeks, 12 Charlton street; John Redden, 632 East Ninth street; Michael Kearns, 213 Mott street; R. Matthews, 48 North Moore street; Charles Theven, 58 Hutton street, Jersey City; L. D. Patton, 590 Kent street, Brooklyn; Thomas Quinn, 996 Second avonue; L. Blakely, 690 Fifth avenue; J. C. Tagur, 21 South street; Wm. Goggins, 19 West Twenty-lifth street, and others—fifty-six in all.

Mr. Gibbs was physically unable to answer.

siy west Twenty-fifth street, and others—fifty-ix in all.

Mr. Gibbs was physically unable to answer all the complainants on the spot. He stood on his reputation as a philanthropist. He prom-led that he would refund the money in any cases which he found deserving after investi-gation. When the evidence is all in the Mar-shal will submit it to the Mayor for his action on the application of Gibbs for a renewal of his license.

THEY'VE GOT THE WHIP HAND. The Telegraph Companies Can Dictate Terms

At a meeting held yesterday the Committoe of Arrangements and the officials of the took Exchange offered to compromise their dispute with the telegraph companies by a par-tial reduction in charges, but the representatives of the telegraph companies refused to ac-cept any compromise. They held to their original demand for a reduction of more than 50 per cent, in the charges now made by the Exchange, and when the officials of the Exchange said that they had no power to act further than to offer a compromise, the telegraph represen-tatives announced that they would vacate the tatives announced that they would vacate the quarters occupied in the Exchange at the end of the month, and gave notice that on to-morrow afternoon after the close of business they would remove their instruments from the building.

If this is done it will seriously inconvenience all the brokers who have used the telegraph and oable service on the floor of the Exchange, but the telegraph people say that they will reap considerable advantage from it. All messages will have to be paid for at the regular rate, and the $9,000 a year charged for the quarters occupied will be wholly saved.

The Exchange now charges the companies $1,500 a year for each of six compartments that they occupy, and also compols them to pay a toll of one cent upon each message received and delivered. The companies offered to pay $1,000 a year rental for their compartments, but insisted upon an entire abolition of the tolls on messages. As all of the companies are now working in harmony, they are in shape to enforce their demands. The Exchange apparently appreciates this, as well as the value of the service, as a special meeting of the exception has been companies of the service, as a special meeting of the exception has been companies of the service. the service, as a special meeting of the Gov-erning Committee of the Exchange has been called for this afternoon to accept the ultima-tum of the telegraph companies.

A Chinese Laundryman Held for Striking Woman

Julia Basso of 227 South Fifth avenue, was beaten and kicked by Wah Lee, a Chinaman who keeps a laundry at 247 South Fifth avonue on Sunday. She left a night gown ther enue on Sunday. She left a night gown there to be washed, and when she called for it. Wah Lee attempted to pass a torn garment on her which she refused to accept. Wah Lee struck hor in the breast with his fist and kicked her.
Policeman Cringle arrested the Chinaman and yesterday took him before Justice Gorman at Jefferson Market, where he was held for trial.

Disturbed by Sounds of Revelry.

Persons residing near Irving Hall sent a petition to Mayor Hewitt on Nov. 13 complain ing that balls, wedding feasts, and other en tertainments are held in Irving Hall on Satur day, Sunday, and Monday nights, and that the guests are noisy, the music, including drums and cornets, is loud, and that the calling of the figures of dancing is boisterous. The petitioners asked to have the entertainments carried on more quietly, so that neighbors might sleep. The letter was sent to Superintendent Murray, who sent it to Capt. Clinchy, who sent Murray, who sent to Total Clinchy, who sent Detective Corey to the Yorkville Court with several of the complainants yesterday. Justice O Reilly issued a summons to Abraham Goldstein, lessee of the hall, to appear in court.

Miss Luckemeyer Marries a Count.

The announcement was published yesterday of the marriage on Nov. 14, at Berlin, o eanne Luckemeyer, the daughter of Edward Luckemeyer, head of a silk importing house of Luckemeyer, head of a silk importing house of this city, to Count John Honry von Bernstorff, the younger son of the late Minister of State of hat name. The ceremony took place at St. Sorge's, the English church in the Monbijou Gerden, Among those present were United States Minister Georga H. Pendleton and the English Ambassador, Sir E. B. Malet. The bride was given away by her father, who is living on the Continent. She was dressed in white satin. Many of her relatives were present. After the geremony there was an elaborate breakfast at Raiser Hotel.

A Highwayman on a Horse Car.

Christian Murray of 537 East Seventeenth street rode up town in a First avenue car with his overcoat lying across his knees on Sunday evening. James Higgins, aged 17 years, of 338 evening. James Higgins, aged 17 years, of 338

East Thirty-fourth street, jumped on the car at Thirty-first street. snatched Murray's overcoat, and jumped off again. He was caught in a hallway in Thirty-third street. When the boy jumped on the car he was heavily bearded.
When he was caught his face was smooth. He had used a false beard, and had thrown it away during the chase. He was held in the Yorkville Court yesterday by Justice O'Reilly for trial.

A Woman Held for Kicking a Boy. Bridget Burke, aged 50 years, of 412 East Eighteenth street, in a fit of anger at some-thing which John Sinnott, aged 11 years, who lives in the same house did to annoy her, kicked the child in the abdomen. The child went into convulsions, and may die. Bridget was committed in the Yorkville Court yesterday to await the result of the child's injuries.

More Attachments Agulast Schwab. Two attachments were granted by Judge Donohue in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterdey against Emanuel Schwab, surviving part-ner of Schwab & Son, lace importers. Drey-fus, Kohn & Co, were the plaintiffs in one case, saking for $3,784.14; Megroz, Portier, Grose & Co, are the plaintiffs in the second case, asking for $3,990.78. THREE BULLETS NEAR RIS HEART

William N. Philpits Becomes Income and William N. Philpitt lived at 841 Adelphi street, Brooklyn, with his mother, a widow, and his half brother, August Beck. He was 41 years old. His business was to attend to his mother's real estate. For some weeks it had been noticed that he acted strangely. At 1 o'clock on Sunday morning he called at the Myrtle avenue police station and asked Sergeant Kelly to send some officers around to his house. No officers were sent because he re-fused to give any explanation other than that fused to give any explanation other than that he wanted them for his own protection. On leaving the station he went to Police Head-quarters and made a similar demand of Telegraph Operator Malloy. In the mean time a message was received at the Myrtle avenue station that Mr. Philpitt was of unsound mind, and recommending that policemen be sent to his house. Sergeant Kelly then sent two policemen, who met Philpitt on his return from Headquarters. He told them they had no business there, and that he did not want and had never asked for police protection. He then entered the house with his latch key and went to his room on the third floor.

Nothing was seen of him until 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, when his door was forced open by Mr. Beck and a neighbor. Mr. Philpitt was found dead on his bed, with a revolver in his hand. Three chambers were empty, and three builets heal lodged in the region of his heart. None of the inmates of the house had heard the shots.

MR. MULLINS READY FOR FIGHT.

He Pulls an Elevated Entirond Man Of his

Mr. John Mullins, a furniture dealer, had a tussle yesterday morning with some of the workmen employed in the construction of the Union Elevated Railroad in Brooklyn. He obtained an injunction last week against the building of the road in front of his store in Jay street and Myrtle avenue, but it was dissolved. Yesterday morning the workmen found that in order to put one of the big iron posts in place it was necessary to cut away a piece of Mr. Mulnis's awning, and the most courageous man in the gang started to climb up the post for that purpose. Mr. Mulins had been closely watching operations from his show window, and the man had not got half way up the post when he rushed out and hauled him down by the legs, at the same time declaring in vigorous language that he had a big gun close at hand, and that he would shoot down the first man who attempted to interfere with his property, Justice Waish refused to grant a warrant for Mr. Mullins arrest. Hostilities have been suspended, but Mr. Mullins says they will be renewed just as soon as his awning is touched by the railroad people.

Justice Brown, in the Supreme Court, has continued the injunctions restraining the Union Elevated Company from interfering with property on Fifth avenue pending the proceedings to condemn and the payment of the award of the Supreme Court Commission. esterday morning the workmen found that in

The Abduction of Rosana Campbell.

The examination into the charge against Peter Quinn, who, it is alleged, abducted Rosana Campbell, 15 years old, on Oct. 30, was continued at Jefferson Market Court yester-day. Agent Stocking of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children reported that he accused, in company with the missing girl, the accused, in company with the missing girl, called at the Degans' house in Westchester on Nov. 30, and introduced Rosana as his daughter, and asked Mrs. Degan to take her as a boarder. Rosana lived in the house under the name of Maggie Quinn until Nov. 21. On that morning she informed Mrs. Degan that Quinn had ordered her to go to New York with him at 10 o'clock. She, however, left on the 1 P. M. train. In the evening Quinn returned to Westchester under the influence of liquor, and demanded to know where his daughter was. Mrs. Degan told him that she had gone to New York to meet him. Agent Stocking asked Justice Power to grant him a further adjournment, and the case was set down for to-day.

Fraudulent Excise Inspectors.

The 100th street police arrested four men for swindling saloon keepers up town by representing themselves as excise inspectors, and bulldozing their victims into buying ball buildozing their victims into buying ball tickets early yesterday morning. They were Gerge Morris, engineer; Solomon Keeley, cigarmaker; William Scott, canvasser, and Charles Sewell, bartender, Saloon Keepers John D. Cordes of 1,744 Ninth avenue and John W. Aylward of 1,828 Ninth svenue charged them with extorting $15 from them for tickets to an alleged bail of the Cosmopolitan Association, and they were locked up.

Archibald Corrigan, 22 years old, of 132 West Twenty-ninth street, and Melise Noel, a French Canadian brunette, 19 years of age, of States Thirty-second street, bashfully in-formed a court officer at Jefferson Market Court yesterday that they wanted to be mar-ried without delay. Adderman William H. Walker consented to officiate. The Alderman kissed the bride before the groom.
